

[Issue Descriptions]: The power on and startup time is relatively long

1. Every time a customer turns on the power, the startup time will be relatively long.
2. But if it is restarted after startup, it will start up at normal speed again.
3. If a similar phenomenon occurs, it is highly likely that the RTC battery is dead or has poor contact.
4. Just replace the RTC battery or send the abnormal RMA of the motherboard back to WM for repair.